IX. Experience in Community-Based Oral Health Programs

I have actively participated in and coordinated a diverse array of community-based oral health programs, aiming to promote oral health and prevent dental diseases within and outside communities in Oyo State, Nigeria. These initiatives span various settings and populations, showcasing a commitment to comprehensive oral health promotion.

a) School-Based Programs:

Organized oral health programs in over 75 educational institutions within and outside Oyo State, including primary, secondary, and university schools in Ibadan and Igboora communities. Activities encompassed oral health education, dental screenings, preventive treatments like fluoride application, and referrals.

b) Community Outreach Programs:

Participated in over 50 outreach programs across different communities in Oyo State, addressing oral health as a standalone focus or in collaboration with other health professionals. Outreach locations included markets, parks, and urban slums, featuring activities such as oral health education, screenings, preventive services, and referrals.

c) Oral Health Programs among Special Population Groups:

Coordinated approximately 20 oral health programs tailored for special population groups, including physically challenged individuals and those residing in facilities such as orphanages, prisons, and geriatric centres. Activities involved oral health education, dental screenings, basic treatment, and referrals.

d) Oral Health Promotion Campaigns:

Engaged in over 20 oral health-related awareness programs using diverse media channels, such as social media, mass media, and community events. Campaigns focused on themes like proper brushing techniques, regular dental check-ups, and healthy dietary habits.
